At Circa Benefits, we know that Not all insurance policies are the same. That's because some companies only offer watercraft insurance as an accommodation to their customers while others specialize in meeting the unique needs of boat owners. And, the differences don't stop there, as there are many important variations from one specialty policy to another.

The American Modern JetSport PWC policy is one of the best at providing the broad coverage and "user friendly" features you need in an insurance policy. The companies of the American Modern Insurance Group (American Modern) are leaders in providing physical damage and liability insurance to personal watercraft owners throughout the United States. The right combination of insurance and safe operations will greatly enhance your time on the water- all year long.
